DELAND, FLORIDA

THIS is the Hatter of 1959—the Classical Hatter, designed to give a panoramic view of life at Stetson. The entire program of the University aids in physical, mental, moral, and spiritual development of the individual. Its friendly atmosphere is conducive to the forming of many warm and pleasant relationships which last even after college years are through. Indeed, Stetson students "are all together . . . working toward a common goal;" and with each hour of study and of creativity, each hour of fun, each hour of worship, we move a step closer to the goal of spiritual and intellectual enrichment and enthusiasm for life.

PROLOGUE

SINCE the founding of Stetson University in 1883, many students have come and gone—the enrollment has increased from 13 to approximately 1400; many changes have been made in the physical plan of the campus; many new courses have been added to the curriculum. But the ideal of the University—to develop in each individual a scholarly attitude, culture, and Christian character—has remained the same through the years. The purpose of Stetson University is as ever, to send out educated Christian men and women to make the world a better place in which to live.

"Well dressed 'Rats' gratefully acknowledge signatures of upper-classmen. More points in that ever-present 'little black book'!"

The music of a serenade lends a more romantic atmosphere to any night.

IN the classroom "kids" become "students". It is here that a seed of interest is sown and nourished, but real intellectual growth depends on the challenge felt by the individual student. In the classroom Stetson's young people receive the incentive which makes many of them outstanding in specialized fields, and prepares all for successful living in a complex world.

CAMPUS PLAN for STETSON UNIVERSITY DELAND FLORIDA

DRAWN 15 SEPT 1956 ARNOLD BUTT

We are always looking to the future; the present does not satisfy us. — Our ideal whatever it may be, lies further on.

GILLETT

IN THE WORLD OF TOMORROW

THE future always beckons us to wish for better things; it speaks of dreams to be realized, plans to be completed. Stetson too turns her face toward the future and sees before her a beautiful new campus—an educational plant to enhance the pursuit of knowledge. Foremost in the coming campus will be the new science center and library—modern, well equipped buildings for the students of tomorrow.

THE COLLEGE ADVENTURE ENDS WITH

GRADUATION

GRADUATION marks the climax of the drama of college life. It is hoped that much joy, and only a little sadness, filled the college days of each graduate. As a playgoer leaves the theatre with happy thoughts of the night's performance, so the Stetson graduate leaves the University with a feeling of appreciation for the satisfying experience he found there.

THIS BOOK IS

DEDICATED TO

ETTER McTEER TURNER Dean of Women

"You give but little when you give of your possessions; it is when you give of yourself that you truly give"—GIBRAN

A PERSON with a great heart, a person who has an abiding faith in the goodness of God, a person who believes in the joy and worth of life, a person who loves youth, a person who is a loyal philosopher-friend of college students—this is Etter McTeer Turner, Stetson's Dean of Women. Her many-faceted personality and her quiet charm have endeared Miss Turner to everyone with whom she has come in contact during her twenty-four years of devoted service to Stetson.

It is in gratitude for this service, and in appreciation for her love and understanding, that we dedicate the 1959 Hatter to Etter McTeer Turner.

Chapter One

UNIVERSITY

THE rewards to be gained by students of Stetson University are now, as always, "spiritual and intellectual enrichment and an enthusiastic approach to life." As the years pass, Stetson continues to grow in the esteem of the people of the South. Buildings on the campus erected by friends and alumnae testify to their devotion to the cause of education and their confidence in Stetson's future. With the school's friendly atmosphere, its brilliant and understanding faculty, and its wonderful students, how can Stetson's future be anything but a bright one? Its graduates will always leave this campus carefully educated for successful living in a Brave New World.

THE PRESIDENT

J. OLLIE EDMUNDS

To the Members of the Stetson Family in 1959

During our Diamond Jubilee Convocation, I was reminded of the story of an American girl who went to India as an exchange student. While there, she hoped she would have an opportunity to meet some of their distinguished women — writers, artists, and educators. One, whom she was especially anxious to meet, had been a leader in bringing about social progress in India. Remembering the pictures she had seen of Gandhi, the American visitor expected this famous lady to be rather old and withered. But when she saw her, she was astonished by her lovely features, her grace, and dignity, and poise.

"Why," exclaimed the girl, "you are beautiful!"

The lady gave her an amused smile and answered gently, "Well, I ought to be, I'm seventy-five."

There are certain qualities which only age can bring to an institution, as well as to a person. Stetson is now seventy-five. She, too, has achieved a becoming grace and dignity and poise — which took seventy-five years to develop.

I congratulate you who have been fortunate enough to be on the campus during your Alma Mater's seventy-fifth birthday year. It is a year you will recall with special satisfaction. I predict you will be talking about it twenty-five years from now when some of you will be returning for your college's one hundredth birthday celebration.

And what extraordinary changes you may expect to see by then! You'll be writing to your friends afterward, "Back in 1959, when I was there, I used to think the university was attractive, but you ought to see Stetson now. She's beautiful!"

We are counting on each of you to help her get that way!

EDWARD COLSON FURLONG, JR.
Dean of the School of Business

THE School of Business was established in 1940.

It is housed in its own building on the main campus. The college graduate entering business without special preparation suffers a handicap; similarly one who confines his study to business is handicapped. The program of the School of Business, therefore, is a combination of academic and business subjects. The Faculty endeavors to cultivate in students those qualities of mind and character that will make useful citizens with high ideals of business morality and social responsibility. Students are encouraged to acquire a clear understanding of modern industrial society and of their responsibilities and opportunities in it.

SENIORS

I want, by understanding myself, to understand others. I want to be all that I am capable of becoming . . . MANSFIELD.

STETSON'S seniors have almost reached the end of their college careers, and will soon be Gone With the Wind. Yet, like memories of the Old South, thoughts of these students will remain with us here. They have helped to establish new traditions and to maintain old ones, and each personality has made its distinctive contribution to Stetson. Perhaps the greatest achievement any graduate can claim is the attainment of self-knowledge which, above all, can help each one to be all that he is capable of becoming. This is the gift Stetson wishes to confer on its students.

Who's Who and Outstanding Seniors

THE Students chosen for "Who's Who in American Universities and Colleges" and for "Outstanding Seniors on Stetson's Campus" are those who, through four years of school, have made distinctive contributions of their time and abilities to make Stetson a better place. It has been said that the more you put into something, whether it's an organization or an education, the more you get out of it. This is true of these seniors, for not only has Stetson gained from their having been here, but they have gained in knowledge, and in developing qualities of leadership which will never fail them in life. It is sincerely to be hoped that these young men and women will go out into the world to evolve a better society, a better way of living. If they do, Stetson will have helped foster The Origin of the Species whose standard will be a standard of excellence, and whose actions will always be worthy of commendation.

ACTIVITIES

ACTIVITIES at Stetson provide for its students and for DeLand residents culture, intellectual and spiritual stimulations, fun, and good entertainment.

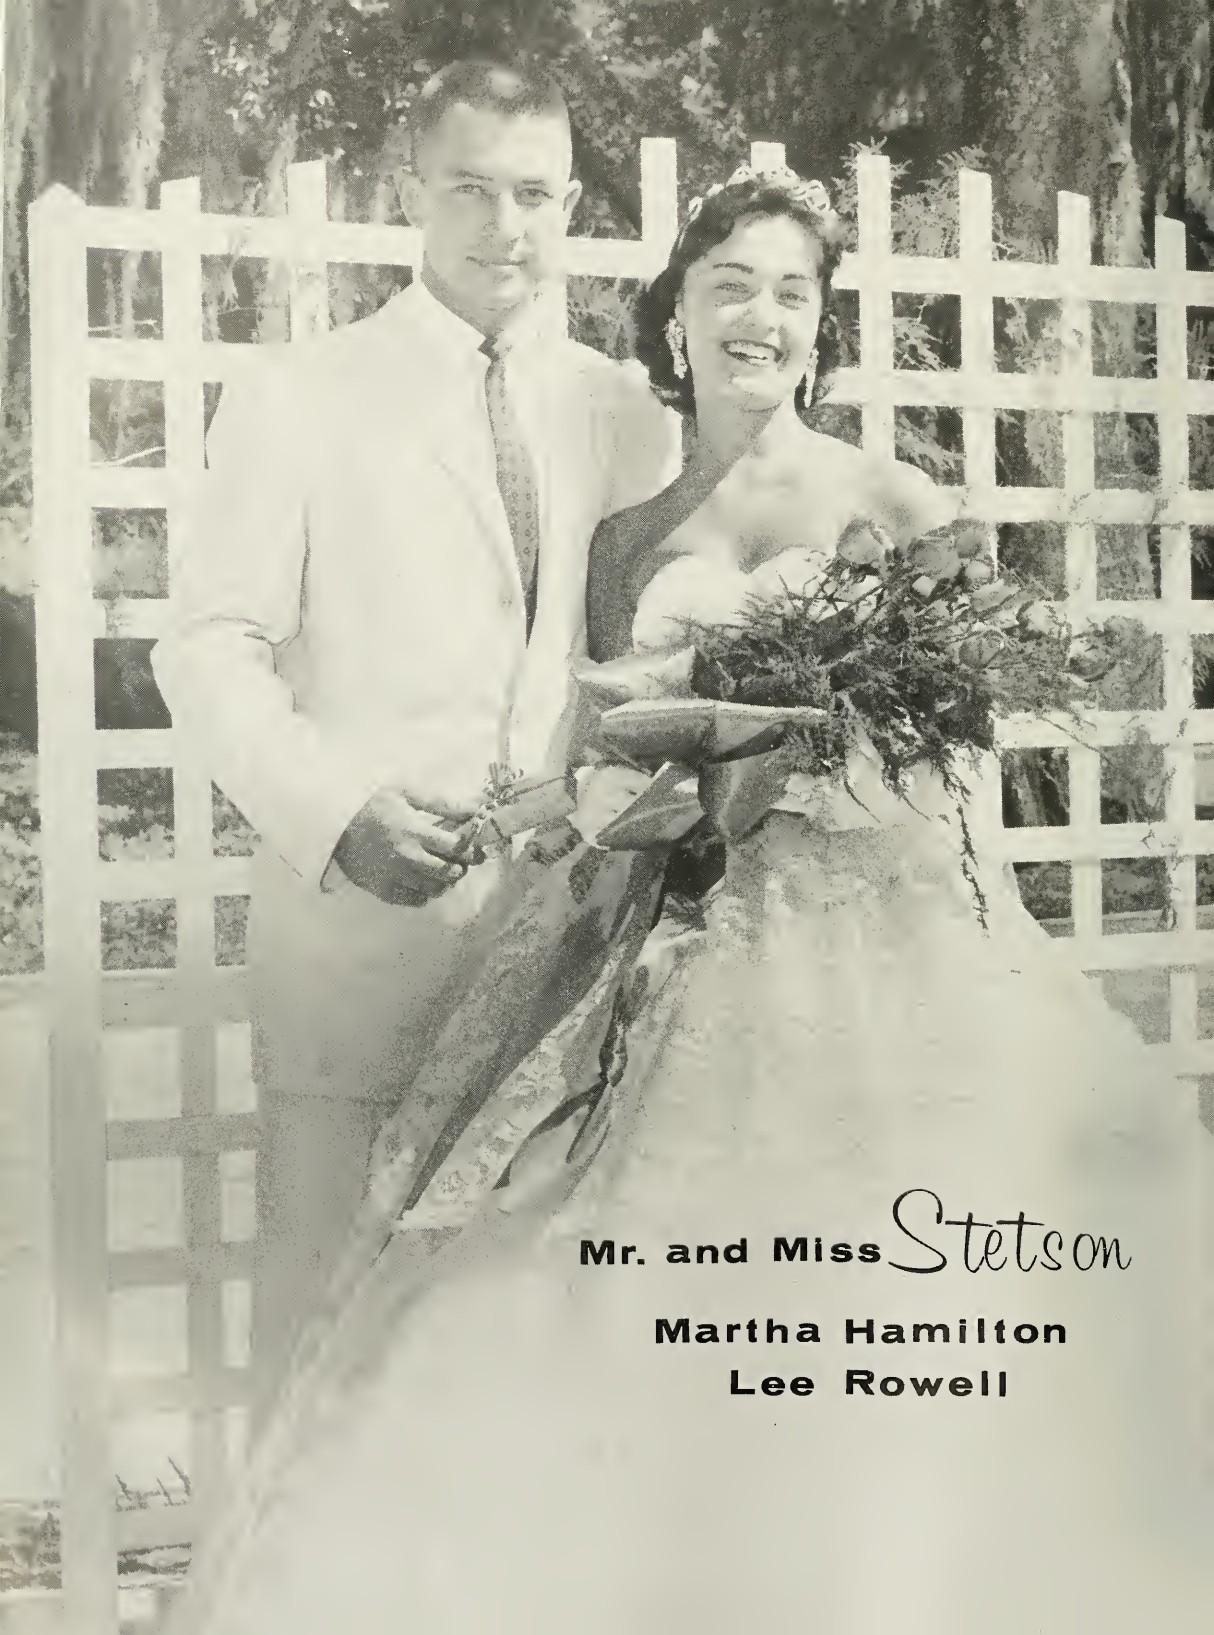

The new Stetson Union Building is the center for many activities, both cultural and recreational. Elizabeth Hall auditorium is often in use for lectures, concerts, forums, religious programs, and convocation.

Stover Theatre offers dramatic and literary productions to please any audience, and the Music School provides musical enjoyment through recitals, and band, orchestra, and Glee Club concerts. Of these, the annual presentation of "The Messiah" is especially to be noted.

Three of the most important events of each year are Homecoming with its impressive convocation and parade, the Green Feather Drive with its worthwhile purpose, and Hatter Holiday with its fun and recreation for all Stetson students. Also sparking the school year are visits to the campus from outstanding entertainers and out-of-state athletic teams.

The activities we know and enjoy at Stetson will someday be Sketches from Memory, but in these, our college years, they are an integral part of campus life.

Candlelighting at North Hall

CHRISTMAS AT STETSON

Among all of the traditions at Stetson, the Christmas Candlelighting is one of the most impressive. During the holiday season this custom and the Lighting of the Yule Log bring the Christmas spirit to Stetson students. As in the days of old England, students burn the symbolic holly, banishing the troubles of the old year. The night before Christmas vacation students simultaneously light candles in all the windows on the darkened campus and then rush to the foot of the big outdoor Christmas tree to sing carols. It is with these pleasant memories that Stetson students leave for home.

Candles are lit all over campus.

Chapter Five

ORGANIZATIONS

IF YOU'RE part of The Lonely Crowd, and want to join a closeknit group, Stetson University is the place for you. Not only is it a small, friendly campus, but it offers to its students membership in dozens of groups, large and small, for interests ranging from scholarship to entertainment. For students with widely varied interests, membership in several groups is not infrequent.

To acknowledge those who rise above the crowd, and are worthy of recognition for their work and abilities, Stetson has honoraries including such fields as drama, history, the sciences, and music.

There are on Stetson's campus eight religious organizations; and for those who desire information and experience in their professional fields, such groups as the Florida Education Association exist to fill their needs.

The musically inclined are able to find satisfaction and give pleasure as well through membership in the Stetson Glee Club, band, and orchestra. Drama enthusiasts find excellent opportunities for developing their talents and for creative expression at Stover Theatre.

So it is seen that on this campus there is no individual who should feel lonely because his interests are not represented.

HOMECOMING COMMITTEE

GREEN FEATHER COMMITTEE

Green Feather Week is an annual Fall event. The talent show, the Sadie Hawkin's Dance, the shave and the make-up permits, and the dance with the fabulous Tommy Dorsey Band were some of the activities which rendered a generous amount of money to the united Charity fund. The total contributions were distributed among the following: Girl Scouts, Boy Scouts, Tuberculosis Fund, Heart Fund, Cancer Fund, and Red Cross.

MRS. SPRAGUE

The Student Union Building houses the following: bookstore, bowling alley, post office, soda shop, cafeteria, private dining rooms, student and faculty lounges, meeting rooms, and hotel accommodations.

THE STUDENT UNION BUILDING BOARD

The Student Union Board co-ordinates the activities and governs the use of the building under the direction of Mrs. Althea Sprague, the official hostess. The University is very proud of the Student Union building, and this board's main purpose is to keep its many facilities useful and beautiful.

"S" CLUB

The "S" Club is an organization of varsity lettermen. Its purposes are to encourage sportsmanship, to develop scholarship, and to promote a spirit of co-operation among athletes, other students, and the faculty.

The "S" Club contributes much to the campus by furnishing the students with press brochures and programs at the basketball games, by keeping up-to-date the intramural boards, and by helping at all varsity sports contests.

The "S" Club contributes to the community by helping out with the Junior Olympics, by pulling the floats for the Christmas parade in conjunction with the Junior Chamber of Commerce, by helping to promote the Green Feather Drive, and by entertaining the crippled children in Umatilla.

The freshmen are welcomed to the campus by the "S" Club. Rat Week is something that we all remember and is handled very well by the "S" Club.

INDEPENDENT WOMEN'S ORGANIZATION

The Independent Women's Organization was established on campus with the purpose of promoting the social, cultural, political, and religious life of its members. It is composed of all independent women who wish to participate in the many activities provided for the group. All independent women have access to the progressive facilities of the organization. Each year a trophy is awarded to the most outstanding independent woman in the freshmen class, which last year went to Joan Holzman. Last year this group claimed the women's intramural trophy, along with other significant achievements.

EXECUTIVE COUNCIL

The Baptist Student Union, under the leadership of Phil Parr, President, and Carroll Caldwell, Director, is composed of all Baptist students who are members of the Baptist churches or the different church affiliated organizations on campus, such as the Y.W.A.

THE BAPTIST

and the Ministerial Association. It serves as the link between the college student and the local churches. The Executive and Freshmen Council are annually elected by the students to supervise and co-ordinate the work of the various organizations.

The B.S.U. plans

The B.S.U. meets and greets the newcomers

Our first big production was the Baptist Big Top. Jim Whitmire, the terrific ringmaster; the clowns; Roberta, the "graceful" bareback rider; and many other acts, all under the same roof, turned out a howling successful show.

Many of the students joined the Baptist churches on "Join the Church Day." Here, Dr. J. Winston Pearce welcomes the new members.

The B.S.U. encourages church membership

In case you don't recognize these four "gentlemen" of the Faculty Minstrel, they are Mr. Sartain, Dr. "Spike" Jones, Carolyn Weiss, and Dr. Holmes.

MORTAR BOARD

LEADERSHIP, SCHOLARSHIP, SERVICE—these are the goals of Mortar Board. Mortar Board is a national honorary organization devoted to these standards and made up of women who have achieved them in their first three years of college. Stetson's chapter sponsors each year a scholarship school and a leadership school and this year will award trophies to senior women who have been outstanding in the field of service. Each spring, Mortar Board sponsors a "Faculty Slave Auction". The proceeds from this auction are used to finance the service projects.

Mortar Board was founded on Stetson's campus during the Homecoming ceremonies of 1957. It is devoted to the task of instilling in the students of this university, the ideals of Scholarship, Leadership, and Service. But it is more than a service organization. It is the final expression of the ideals it seeks to instill in others and the highest honor Stetson University can bestow on its outstanding women.

Chapter Six

FRATERNITIES

IT HAS been said that a fraternity is your "college family", and this is an apt description of fraternity life at Stetson. Membership in a fraternity, while not necessary to a happy college career, does provide a close circle of loyal friends, and a sense of "belonging" which gives satisfaction.

Fraternity activities and experiences also serve to broaden the horizons of the college student, and often develop individual leadership ability. After graduation, fraternity membership provides an enlarged circle of friends through bonds with all Greek men and women.

If ever we reached a Utopia, it would be the home of a people linked by bonds very similar to those found in fraternity fellowship.

We are well represented in Canterbury Club, the B.S.U. and other religious organizations. We also have representation in drama and musical productions as well as the school publications.

Lambda Chi continues to maintain high rank among the fraternities in scholarship.

Among our annual affairs are a Christmas party during which presents are gathered for the underprivileged children of the city and our Founder's Day Coronation Ball, at which our "Crescent Girl" is crowned. Each year we enjoy many star-lit dances and barbecue parties on our out-door patio.

FLORIDA BETA CHAPTER

The Florida Beta Chapter of Sigma Phi Epsilon, the second largest fraternity in the world, established itself at Stetson in February of 1949. Sigma Phi Epsilon National was founded November 1, 1901, at Richmond College in Virginia.

Sigma Phi Epsilon puts forth every effort to promote high scholastic attainment. The past year Sig Ep's ranked first in fraternal scholastic averages. We constantly strive to promote scholastic ideals and brotherhood.

On the social side, Sig Ep's climax their round of theme parties with the annual weekend and "Queen of Hearts Ball" held in April. Warm afternoons are spent in swimming and relaxation at the Sig Ep's beach.

Sigma Phi Epsilon is justly proud of their SPE camp fund for the benefit of underprivileged children. Established in 1950, it was the first such project successfully administered by a National Fraternity.

Prominent alumni on campus are Richard Pearce, Dr. John Vaughen, Dr. William Bliss, Dean E. C. Furlong, and Graves Edmundson.

Phi Mu, the second oldest secret society for women in the U. S., was founded at Wesleyan College in Macon, Georgia. In January, 1852 it was organized as the Philomathean Society by its three founders, Mary Myrick Daniel, Martha Hardaway Redding, and Mary DuPont Lines. During the Civil War Period General Robert E. Lee, "Stonewall" Jackson and Confederate President Jefferson Davis accepted honorary membership in Phi Mu. In 1911, Phi Mu was admitted to membership in the National Panhellenic Conference. Presently there are 77 collegiate chapters and 150 alumnae clubs, chapters and associations.

Phi Mu's philanthropic activities include a Health-mobile, mobile tuberculosis clinic in Georgia, an annual study grant to foreign study for post-graduate work at American University. The local chapter presents Thanksgiving baskets to needy families and has an annual Easter party for the underprivileged children of the DeLand area.

Traditions of the local chapter include a Spring Weekend and Houseparty, Mother-Daughter X'mas Party, Pledge Car Wash, and Senior Breakfast.

MILITARY

THE military program at Stetson looks to the future, with the aim of producing America's leaders. This program is represented by the ROTC, which trains the young men on the campus in military tactics, and is an integral part of the curriculum. Each year Stetson's ROTC brings honor to the school through its outstanding achievements in drill and riflery.

This group adds to campus social life by sponsoring the annual Military Ball. It also sponsors a military field day, in which both individuals and units compete for awards. Outstanding participants in the military program are selected for membership in Scabbard and Blade, an honorary organization.

Through classes, drill, promotions, and competition, ROTC participants learn discipline and military science which will benefit them, and offer an opportunity to be of service to the nation. Through ROTC, also, many young men are able to leave the carefree life of Boyhood and Boys, accept responsibility, and truly become men.

THE RIFLE TEAM

Stetson's ROTC gives its men a chance to improve their prowess and skill in riflery. Each year the best cadets are entered in state competition.

SUMMER CAMP

Following their Junior year, the men in ROTC spend a summer at Ft. Benning, Ga., in further military training and specialization. This is an extremely worthwhile experience in that it toughens them to the rigors of military life and provides an opportunity for meeting ROTC men from other schools. It also prepares them to accept responsibility and to serve as future military leaders.

MILITARY BALL

Each year Stetson's ROTC sponsors the Military Ball, one of the biggest social events of the spring semester. It is highlighted by the election of the Military Ball Queen from a group of the loveliest girls Stetson has to offer, entered by various campus organizations. The girl elected represents the military in all parades and contests which follow during the year. The combined efforts of all the men in ROTC help to make this dance a success year after year.

Chapter Eight

SPORTS

STETSON is credited with "the beginning of intercollegiate athletics in Florida." The university has continued the tradition begun many years ago, with keen intercollegiate competition in soccer, baseball, basketball, tennis, and golf; the competitors being teams from other institutions in the southeast.

The new athletic field provides excellent facilities for both track and field sports and has been used this year for intercollegiate and intramural sports. Rivalry in intramural sports runs high, and sparks interest for frequent games between campus organizations. A great many Stetson students, both men and women, participate in intramurals, the site of women's competition being Cummings Gym.

Stetson has good reason to be proud of its athletic record, for it boasts a well-rounded activity schedule, many victories, and most important of all, teams composed of good sports, who, when the occasion demands, can find Victory in Defeat.

The Stetson Hats ended another season of basketball in a blaze of glory. After a fairly slow start the Hatters found their balance and finished the season with a string of wins. One of the main plums (or, if you wish, oranges) picked this year was the championship trophy from the Citrus Invitational Tournament.

CAPTAIN LARRY STOWE

Right after the beginning of second semester the field back of North Hall begins to ring with the sounds of the baseball team "loosening up." All spring the crack of the baseballs against the bats tell Stetsonites that their team is getting ready for a long winning streak.

With the coming of March, things really begin to happen. The team not only travels all over Florida and south Georgia, but also has time to thrill the fans here on campus.

The good throw and a grab by Larry Stowe spell death for one of FSU's Seminoles.

Stetson's Bill Carr and FSU's Miller exchange batting orders preceding the big fracas.

INTRAMURAL BOARD

The Intramural Board is the legislative and policy-making body of the Men's Intramural Athletic Association. Each organization entered in intramural competition is represented on the Board.

Meeting weekly, the Board determines the type of competition, rules on all protested contests, and decides other matters relative to the general conduct of the program.

Each representative serves as a manager for at least one of the sports on the intramural calendar. Members who have represented their organization throughout the entire year are awarded intramural keys by the Association for their service.

JERRY JOHNSTON

Randy and Jocko battle for the ball.

Ready for the snap down on the new athletic field.

Gator breaks loose, and, with some help from Randy goes for the TD.

The 1958-59 school year marked another giant stride forward in the intramural program. Under the very capable guidance of Director Garland H. Williams, the program was expanded to offer more men an opportunity to join in the intramural activities. Facilities for intramural play were bolstered with the addition of a huge, new athletic field, complete with three football gridirons, two softball diamonds, and a nine-lane, quarter-mile track.

The men's intramural athletics program is designed to provide for maximum participation in challenging sports activities that encourage the development of such desirable traits as leadership, sportsmanship, and teamwork as well as motor skills.

The competitive spirit in men's intramurals is keen. Each year, eight organizations vie for intramural honors, with a majority of them entering teams on both an "A" and "B" level of competition. The symbol of intramural supremacy is the magnificent President's Cup which is presented annually to the organization that compiles the highest point total in over-all intramural play.

Stetson's intramural program takes a back seat to no one. In relation to other colleges and universities, Stetson's program is recognized as one of the largest and best in the country. At present Stetson has the largest intramural program in the South, among schools in the college division.

It was a close finish in the 440 yard relay during the 1958 Men's Intramural Track and Field Championship.

Don Ray makes a lay-up as Ron Palmer and Phil Newcomb look on.

Mel Christman's feats such as this win him the high jump event.

Who got the bull's eye?

Sara Staff Jernigan, Nationally known educator, heads women's physical education.

INDIVIDUAL

Individual sports play an important part in Stetson's intramural program. It is through participation in these activities that girls learn self-reliance, sportsmanship, and the joy of playing the game. Also, in this way each girl supports, in her own special way, the group that she represents.

And the score is 9—9!

This one worth 8 points is ours.

S P O R T S

Each woman on the campus is reached through the sororities and the Independent Women. Competition is set up among the groups with a trophy awarded to the groups compiling the most points, which are gotten through participation and victories. A trophy is also given to the group with the most members participating. With shuffle-board, tennis, badminton, and archery offered, there is a sport for everyone.

Rough or smooth?

It was a great game.

Strategy is planned

Up and over for a point

TEAM

Let's play ball! In team sports each girl has the opportunity to play a part in winning the game as well as the opportunity to develop such qualities as cooperation, fair play, team spirit, and good sportsmanship in volleyball, and softball, the competitive spirit is found at its peak.

Batter up!

We'll take the field.

S P O R T S

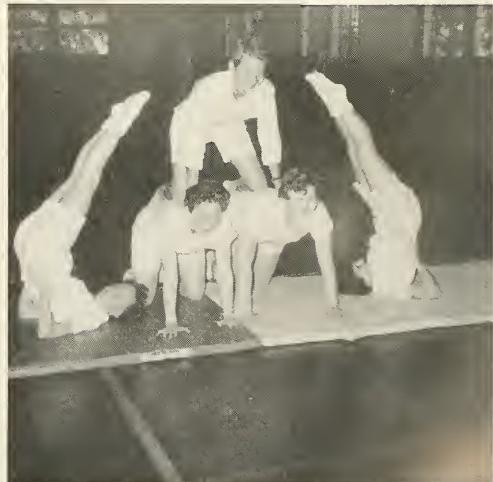

Perfect posture!! Tumbling develops body co-ordination, control and balance in the performers. The opportunity for creativity is provided in the formation of pyramids, and stunt and tumbling formations. Thus, these activities play an important part in the program aimed toward physical fitness.

This takes practice.

And up on three.

GO HATTERS!

The cheerleaders do much for the sports at Stetson. They lead the student body in pep rallies, and their enthusiasm at the games often helps the Hatters come from behind to victory. This year Co-Captains Mollie Sandiford and Anita Anderson have worked hard to lead Stetsonites toward more spirit.

Chapter Nine

CLASSES

THE classes of 1958-59 have shared many activities and memorable experiences, as well as lots of fun this year. They have shared also the closeness which can be found only on a small campus such as Stetson. They have been the first students to use the fully developed facilities of the Stetson Union Building, and they have participated in the Diamond Jubilee Convocation, a significant even in Stetson's history. Theirs is a heritage of progress, expansion, and improvement on the part of the university, a heritage rich in benefits for every Stetson student. They are students who, Night and Morning will strive to fulfill Stetson's forward-looking tradition.

THE JUNIOR CLASS

The members of the Junior class are about to become next year's graduating Seniors. With this realization, most of them have tackled the questions which must be answered before they reach the end of their college careers. They have decided what to take next year, what the goals of that last year will be, and most important, what they'll do with that diploma! Equipped with high ideals and knowledge they've acquired so far, they are sure to fulfill the Great Expectations held for them as the graduates of 1960.

THE SOPHOMORE CLASS

The Sophomores, now wise to the ways of college, consider Stetson and DeLand Our Town. Familiar with persons, places, and procedures, they find it easier to study, easier to budget time for work and play, and easier to get along with people and situations. These students are well on the way to a college diploma, and are now able to meet the responsibilities which accompany the title of "upperclassmen."

THE FRESHMAN CLASS

The members of the Freshman class entered school in the fall of '58 full of The Sound and the Fury of youth. The end of this year marks their coming of age as college students, and while they are still young and high-spirited, they find themselves more mature.

Now well-acquainted with campus life, these students look forward to helping next year's Freshman class get started on the road of higher education and broadening college experiences.

LAW SCHOOL

STETSON'S COLLEGE of Law, established in 1900, is Florida's oldest law school. In 1954 it was moved from DeLand to St. Petersburg, Florida. This location provides ready access to the courts, agencies, and institutional facilities of the Tampa Bay metropolitan area.

The curriculum of the law school, approved by the Florida Supreme Court in 1909, permits graduates to be admitted to the Bar of Florida without taking the regular Bar examination. For many years the school has been on the accredited list of the American Bar Association, and has been a member of the Association of American Law Schools.

The law course is based primarily upon the study and discussion of reported cases, supplemented by lectures and assigned readings. The faculty endeavors to give such training as will fit young men and women for the active duties of the office and courtroom, and at the same time effort is made to impress upon the students the high ethical standards of the legal profession; and an awareness of the underlying philosophy of the principles of law.

The graduates of Stetson's Law School are men who, when there comes A Time to Act, will act wisely and justly, upholding high standards of excellence which accompany their degree.

DEAR STETSONITES,

We would like to take this opportunity to thank you, the students of Stetson University, for your co-operation and efforts toward making this year's Hatter a success. We hope that this year's book will live up to your expectations and in the years to come it will be a classic between the covers of which you will find pleasant memories.

There are some students of the University who deserve special recognition for their donation of time and effort. We would like to thank especially the following section editors: Sally Boureau, Patsy Meadows, Paul Thomas, Ann Anderson, Marilyn Krekle, Bev Henderson, Alice Worthington, Brenda Franks, Juanita Gresham, Mike Blocker, Bob Sullins, John Thompson, Leigh Sanders, Mary Watkins, Monica Tedder, Anna Perry, and Connie Constans. We can't forget those people who pounded the pavements to get enough advertising to make the book solvent, so thanks to Dan Scoggins, Grace Waterson, and Modine Gunch.

There were others without whose help this book would have never passed the planning stage. Mr. Beutner has worked tirelessly to get us the needed typewriters and supplies. Mr. Taylor has assisted us in innumerable ways through the News Bureau. The Publications Board, too, has helped us to get out of several tight spots. Our hats go off especially to Dean Turner who has untiringly supported us in this endeavor.

On the side of actually putting out the book our thanks goes to Foote and Davies, the publishers; Alabama Engraving Company, the engravers, and Chidnoff Studios, the photographer. In looking back over the year and its events, we have found much to enrich and enhance our Stetson memories. We have tried to present these memories in a retainable form through the medium of the Stetson Hatter. It is your book, and we sincerely hope you enjoy it.

Sincerely,

ANN SEVERANCE, Editor

BYRD BOOTH, Acting Business Manager
